shine on through the seasons and you'll never have to pray you should try to save a flower or to save your soul in vain shine on in every mirror you find and you'll never be regret and if you try to save a flower let its thorns enter your veins so hold on my final reason 'cause i never had to pray i wish i tried to be a petal to your eyes while a thorn entered your veins hold on waiting for a saviour your tears are stones inside the wind and above there are the angels do not believe that they can dream so hold on my little dreamer wait your saviour till the end i hope you find what now you're searching for but i think you'll die in vain he was alone, just a whisper in the wind he was alone inside you tears he was alone and i feel your dying scream now let him die and fly again so bring on my final season now you'll never have to pray i would try to be a petal to you eyes while this thorn enters your veins

and i'll never have to pray i'd try but now i'm gonna die night of freedom and serenity (morgana calligaris - eno jakomin) many old songs are tales of freedom just like the one now i'm writing for you and i do it to tell you one thing: please take good care of your peace and love our lives don't go on forever but so often we waste our time giving love to people who don't need it or to ones who just don't give it us but tonight the wind that blows in your hair will carry your soul and me in another time tonight we'll find a new dimension made of freedom and serenity in the night free your soul and alone we're together in fact we have found that the most important thing is to spend our time with someone to feel good with and now that i know that with you i feel good it's important for me: you bring me serenity tonight the wind that blows in your hair

tonight the light is the flame of a candle that burns away the negativity tonight relax and feel you freedom smile to yourself and your serenity a song for emma (eno jakomin - maroo bernool) she used to be my only woman in a land i called my dreams but i would better be a woman and now i'll tell you what it means had a friend, her name was emma you've to believe i loved her so wanted her to be my woman but as she heard it, she just did go but i think if i was a woman with her i'd never fall in love i should search for viking conan the strongest kind of male love but life just told me to be a man and fate told me to be a friend a nice condition of inhumanity ... and that's the story of you and me

and now i've told you what it means life's ace

(alessio roveri - eno jakomin) years of troubles a whole row but every long road has some bows and every story has its changes now everything seems like it dances things just happen to feel happy dreams are stupid to believe naked bodies in the sun the taste of freedom all around things are never as you dream to stop thinking and try to live

when the rain washes your clothes every cloud seems gathered up above and everything seems turned to wrong don't forget you can be strong

jealousy is lost in space all the envy has changed face all the wrongs have turned to grace now that life has played its ace

me?

(eno jakomin - sebastiano fratini) how far is heaven on that different way? it's closer to you than everything else i know it is time to leave all that behind running for freedom instead being blind i wanted to run with you dear friend of mine you were my freedom, my day and my night i used to love you much more than you think and now between you and me there will always be a link

how long a dream does it take to change?

something you find and something you lose ready or not, quite never you can choose sometimes you're right and sometimes you're wrong and what i mean is that quite never i feel strong but friend you're different than everyone else and you need to feel freedom and live by yourself your lovers can change they may come and go while i'm here forever and my love'll never stop
