

I Dreamed of Clint Eastwood in Siberia

Some say dreams are like movies but
Mine usually are not
Only once I dreamed a movie
I dreamed
Of Clint Eastwood in Siberia

A spy for the United States
Assigned to spy Russian industries
Under cover as a foreign engineer
In factories in Yakutsk
He made himself a life
In the coldest city on earth
He also met a woman
That he started to see

Clint Eastwood in Siberia
His eyes of ice on ice
In the coldest city on earth
He found himself a life

Tatjana fell in love with him
She was a woman in her forty
Resembling Meryl Streep
In The Bridges of Madison County

Don't ask me who was the actress
I wouldn't know the answer
Maybe some Russian woman
Some former ballerina

Clint Eastwood in Siberia
His eyes of ice on ice
His character a spy
Who found himself a life

Tatjana and the spy
Took a bus for a day out
To visit Omyakon
Or to enjoy the ride
There was an accident
The bus crashed
On that Siberian
Slippery frozen road

Tatjana made it with no consequences
But the spy's fate was not that good
He needed surgeries
Which he survived
Not to use his legs again

Clint eastwood in Siberia
His legs now of no use
His body on a wheelchair

Depression came and it was hard
But Tatjana was with him
The spy was clearly a spy no more
He didn't even want to live

Her love made him go on
And she suggested therapy
And somehow ashamed of himself
He finally met the shrink

Clint Eastwood in Siberia
He was a spy no more
He was a broken man

Sergej the shrink was tough
He was on a wheelchair too
He showed Clint enough
To make him go through

Clint's life became a challenge
Sergej his new ally
Tatjana was beside him
Treated like a wife

Clint Eastwood in Siberia
And even without legs
His life a worthy life

Meanwhile in the States
An infiltrate was missing
An unauthorized dismissing
No updates from Yakutsk

Was the man a deserter?
In an action of defection?
A man in black was called
Sent after him as a reaction.

Clint Eastwood in Siberia
A character very strong
He lost his legs but found a life
Though it didn't last for long
