

Smile

I remember the day when i first talked to you
I remember your eyes enlightened by emotions
I remember that evening I felt like a child
Amazed by somebody who seemed like a dream

I saw a new world and did not understand
In your eyes oh such a beautiful place
In your words so much humanity
In the way you said them I found the infinity

As you were with me I felt good inside
The best thing was having nothing to hide
Weeks later now I remember that day
There's a smile on my face and I just say hey

I say hey

I say hey, you're alive, not only a memory of life
And in every smile I keep part of you in my mind
Hey, you're alive, stay a while in my life
Make me smile and smile for the love that I have inside

And every time I smile or feel well
I wish you were here with me
Mayme there is no reason for it
Or maybe... there is one
